

Fnaf discussions

Yes I am a fan of fnaf, not a diehard fan but I've watched a LOT of game theory and even played some of them

I've known about the game since I was a little kid I can remember vividly playing fnaf 4 and being so scared every time I'd turn it on I'd just walk out of the room afraid that I'd get jumpscared

But either way

Here we go

William Afton's broken character

I think he could've been written better

MUCH better

So I think even if it will mess up the time line a bit maybe the true reason Afton could kill kids

1 by his son being the crying child and the dude with a foxy mask not being his brother but Henry's kid that would mean at home Henry would be visiting William and bringing his kid with him

2 that would mean the guy with the foxy mask would be to blame for the death of William's son so to break Henry to torture him to make him feel the trauma William felt from this decides to kill the weakest and most vulnerable kid Henry had

His daughter

3 William finding out about puppet realizing it could be possessed kills more kids to see if THEY can possess the suits

In order to learn if he can bring back his own son

And finally 4 the rest of his killings being driven by his will to save his son but making sure to become immortal first so that nobody else will stop him from saving his son and getting more time to create robots in order to one day recreate crying child's body and put his son's soul inside of it

Also that would explain why even if we see spring trap in his normal form in sister location would look different in the simulator game

If Henry was against William from the start and wanted to kill him he'd try to get rid of his suit and burn his flesh

So that he'd wear the suit to survive the fire himself

And THEN having William put himself back together using garbage that he finds

Kind of like how baby recreated herself

And baby IS trying to make William proud so it would make sense if maybe SHE put him together

I know it'll be way too hard to explain all the details and stuff like that but this isn't a way to fix the story I just wanted to think of a better characterization and story for William specifically

Instead of KILLING KIDS for getting jealousy ( which I think is stupid by the way

You don't see me killing wonderful artists that have way better skill than me ESPECIALLY killing random people wildly while they had nothing to do with me )

And hey maybe Henry was the one who put the crying child back together if Gregory is the crying child

As theories say the trash rabbit could be beaten by their agony getting erased

So if Henry to stop William from coming back again and again by making his son after learning how to do it by creating the 4 closets

MAAAAAYBE it was a plan from him to end Spring trap from coming back

And spring trap himself could maybe not be himself by the time we see him in security breach

Considering the kids not only killed his son but the kid responsible for HIS kids death tried killing him multiple times

Henry getting him trapped with his daughter and trying to kill BOTH of them

And Cassidy torturing him

It wouldn't be JUST be the will to save his son that would be driving him it would be the agony he's felt trying to do what he deems as right

And hell if Spring Trap really brought himself back by the use of glitch trap who's to say his robotic self would even remember what William's goal is

Because again circuits have limited data in them and considering glitch trap looks like the oldest version of William Afton it either means William just decided to show himself as when he was in his hay day OR he only remembers that part of his life only the killing and only the lust for revenge but nothing else

Which would also explain how he's even brought back in the first place

You can't put a computer chip into someone's brain and make them live ( even though the chips might have his soul in them )

Agony would be in those chips

Because again we're guessing that those were possessed AFTER the final time Afton thought he'd die

Henry making fun of his torture and trying to do something right by telling him he'd go to hell

So I think if the computer chips got bigger data or spread the condensed soul inside of it he could remember WHY he was killing

It wasn't just revenge

It was saving his son

There might be a much better story idea for William Afton out there but I decided to write this one

A head canon

Oh also if Freddy in security breach IS Mike then it would make sense why he'd call the amalgamation his "friends"

The kids that William wanted to kill and get revenge of while also testing his theory of possession

I'd like to hear your thoughts about it but... I don't think I ever will

It might be horrible it might be unoriginal or it might be okay enough

Or at least much better than stupid Jealousy towards Henry making him kill

If you couldn't guess until now I'm a bigger fan of the story back when the games were starting off instead of any agonies and glitch traps and William trying to be immortal and stuff like that

I know a good story doesn't make for a good game
BUT GOD DAMN IT FNAF IS ABOUT ITS LORE

After FnaF 6 it really took a nose dive didn't it

Ennard's plan

the feeling of vibration wakes Springtrap up the noise of the wall banging... he thought he was hearing things again

there was no way out until the wall in front of him breaks open, a silhouette of what William used to look like in his heyday

"Mike? Mike! It's been so long"

He said nothing

Quietly walked up to Spring trap with dead eyes a robotic arm with wires exploded out of Mike's chest getting an inch away from William's eyes

But Michael was able to hold Ennard with the small control he had of his arms

Whispering in a broken robotic voice

“Father...”

William: “not you too”

“... ru-“ Mike’s eyes crying oil Ennard starts bending Mike’s body like metal aggressively bashing against the sides of his throat and head getting closer to the mouth and eyes

The voices of Ennard sounding monstrous only a small sign of a girl’s voice mixed into a mountain of rage and agony

Ennard popped Mike’s eyes while pulling out his tentacles out of his sockets, stretched Mike’s throat and his head emerging

William ran away but the broken bones and pieces of meat weren’t capable of outrunning Ennard

William fell over his leg bone snapped in half

Ennard got close to slashing against William with his claws but then stopped

A wire of metal hand fought against Ennard

A part of Ennard started splitting apart

A part with green eyes

voice getting quieter each time baby said
“I will make you prow- pro- prow..”

As Ennard tore her apart with each attack finishing it by splitting her in half and turning his head back at Springtrap

Baby Gave William just enough time to snap back his bone run outside and lock the door

Seeing the light of the sun reflecting on his metal body he finally saw his exposed flesh and bones in the light William fell on his knees on the grass below shaking his arms uncontrollably

He wasn't able to cry

But he sure as hell tried

The crying sounded like laughter before he broke down sobbing

William: “I'm the last one...

Unless...

Evan, I'll find you

And when I will

I will bring you back

Put you back together"

His legs moving awkwardly in metallic motion

William took the first step

"We will watch your favorite shows again"

Stumbling at every step

"We will finally play with your toys playing make belief"

Stumbling towards a tree and catching his fall

"I will tell you a bed time story

And be with you

Every

Single

night"

Disappearing in the shadow of the forest trees like a ghost

I felt like this kind of story could work as a mini game

Wow writing Fnaf again took me so far back I feel it in my heart
The first story I've made

My god that was a long time ago
